

Make sure your code never breaks down. If you know that it cannot handle e.g. P10.txt, skip this file and don't include it in the output. This way, you will not get a full score, but you will still get points for the partial solution.

Before submission, always check the result of the first checks. Incorrect output format, syntax and indentation errors, etc will result into 0 points.